Part III. Qualifying Local Programs

4. Construction Site Runoff Control and 5. Post-Construction Runoff Control:

The Linn County Erosion, Sediment, and Stormwater Control Ordinance was adopted and implemented April 15, 1998, and applies to all projects within the boundaries and jurisdiction of the incorporated limits of Linn County. The ordinance is enforced by the Linn County Control Administrator, the Linn County Planning and Zoning Department.

The intent of this ordinance is to require erosion control and storm water practices that will control the amount of sediment and other pollutants leaving development sites both during and after construction and reduce the impact of development on erosion or receiving streams. It is also the intent of this ordinance to promote design and construction practices that control erosion and sediment during development and that maintain natural drainage and storm water storage features whenever possible.

All contractors covering all pre-project conditions and post-project conditions, licensed through a contract with Linn County Solid and Water Control, shall be required to provide a qualified civil engineer to review all erosion, sediment and stormwater permit applications. The engineer also executes the Linn County Control Administrator or his/her designee's pre- and post-project construction site inspection of a "Final Inspection/Verification of Erosion, Sediment, Stormwater Control Measures".

There are no exceptions of Permit coverage by the ordinance and enforced by the Linn County Control Administrator which are as follows:

GENERAL EROSION AND SEDIMENT CONTROL PERMITS

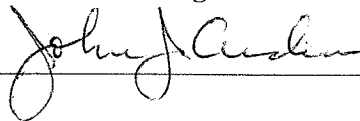

Before construction begins on a site involving construction of any new single or two family dwelling, commercial or industrial with an area of 7,000 square feet or greater, the owner of the land, or his representative, shall be required to file an application for a general erosion and sediment control permit at either Standard or Site Specific plan.

EROSION, SEDIMENT, AND STORM WATER CONTROL PERMITS

Before construction begins on any commercial, institutional, multi-family or industrial or institutional project with an area of more than one-half (1/2) acre, or a project requiring a final plan approved by a local governmental authority with an area of more than one-half (1/2) acre, the owner of the land, or his representative, shall be required to file an application for an Erosion, Sediment, and Storm Water Control Permit.
